PRODUCT OVERVIEW

CRAMER ULTRA-LASTIC TEAR STRETCH TAPE

PRODUCT DETAILS

- Lightweight and flexible low profile stretch adhesive tape
- Non-latex skin-conforming tape designed for direct application
- Thinner design molds to the skin for comfort and support
- Incorporates spandex for strength and lightness during athletic play

Precision conformity for dynamic support

Engineered with a thinner, high-stretch profile, this tape contours seamlessly to joints and soft tissue—delivering a locked-in fit that moves naturally with the athlete. Ideal for athletic trainers who need consistent, anatomical support without compromising range of motion or comfort.

Pro-grade strength without constriction

Cramer's ultra-lightweight adhesive tape is the ideal choice for direct application to the skin. Infused with spandex for controlled elasticity, this tape provides durable hold under high-intensity conditions while helping reduce the risk of a tourniquet effect. Lightweight, strong, and easy to tear—built for fast application and reliable performance in training rooms and during athletic play.

Round out your Cramer tape toolkit
